Introduction Mathematician Henry Laxen (Caltech) will give a presentation on intuition. Do you trust your intuition? Are there some things you just instinctively know? Or are you a skeptic who needs a "mathematical proof" that something is true? Henry will give a presentation guaranteed to make you question what you know and what you don't know.

Additionally, he will quiz the audience. Those who reply with the correct answer will receive ten trillion dollarsplease, only one bundle of cash per person.
